

SH1-016-13

Heinkel He-111Z

White version

The Heinkel He-111 was the principal Medium Bomber of the German Luftwaffe in World War 2. The Z-type was a variant with two H-types connected on the wing with an additional fifth engine in the center. It was conceived and used to pull large gliders, especially the Messerschmidt 321.