

CASA 2.111

Spanish Air Force, 1949

The Heinkel He-111 was the principal Medium Bomber of the German Luftwaffe in World War 2. While gradually replaced by newer types, it served until the end of the war in various roles. The Spanish license-built version, the CASA 2.111 even served until long after the war.

The Z-type was a variant with two H-types connected on the wing with an additional fifth engine in the center. It was conceived and used to pull large gliders, especially the Messerschmidt 321.
