Ilyushin Il-2T Torpedo Bomber

Yellow 23

V-VS, 1944

The Il-2 Sturmovik was the first ever armored Attack aircraft, which earned it the Name "Flying Tank". It was the backbone of Soviet close air support and feared among German ground troops. Its excessive production made it the most-produced military aircraft in history.

This version was modified to carry a 45-12AN torpedo under the belly for extra-low level anti shipping strikes.
