

Long March 5

长征 5号

The Long March 5 is China's biggest and most powerful rocket, designed to transport large cargo to geosynchronous orbit. The Long March 5 is the basic version which has two stages, although it can be used with an additional upper stage.